Overview

PT Leighton Contractors Indonesia has been providing a full range of construction and contract mining services throughout Indonesia since 1975. Regarded as one of the leading contractors in the country, our expertise encompasses all aspects of civil engineering & infrastructure, industrial building & camp accommodation, contract mining, mine infrastructure, marine works, telecommunications, railways, petrochemicals and process engineering. PT Leighton Contractors Indonesia is part of the Leighton Holdings Group, Australia's largest contractor and project developer with annual revenues exceeding US$ 9.6 billion for the reporting period of July 2006 to June 2007.

Product & Service

As part of the Leighton Group, PT Leighton Contractors Indonesia has access to a wide range of skills and experience as well as the financial resources to enable it to undertake projects of any scale and complexity in contract mining, civil engineering, industrial building, rail and telecommunications.

Specific to the oil and gas sector, the Leighton Group has the capability to build terminal, hydrocarbon storage and fuel handling facilities, marine loading and export facilities, offshore concrete gravity structures, pipelines (offshore and onshore) and hydrocarbon receiving and processing facilities.

These capabilities are supplemented by our core expertise in civil engineering and infrastructure.

Project Highlights

Current projects in Indonesia are mainly for contract mining and located in Kalimantan to meet the enormous demand for export quality coal. PT Leighton Contractors Indonesia has over US$ 900 million of work in hand but is looking to expand into the oil & gas sector with our dedicated pipeline laying and crane barges. Recent works for BP at the Tangguh LNG Project in Papua included all the civil earthworks and the camp construction with accommodation built for 9,000 men.
